ANGELA TENG

Colourwork

Presented by Equinox Gallery at the Fairmont Pacific Rim, Vancouver BC
March 12, 2025 – June 9, 2025

---

Equinox Gallery (Vancouver, BC) is pleased to present Colourwork, a solo exhibition of paintings by Vancouver artist Angela Teng for the Pacific Gallery at the Fairmont Pacific Rim.

Teng (b. 1979) has been acknowledged nationwide for her experimentation with the medium of paint, particularly her works made by crocheting paint strings. After squeezing and drying lengths of different coloured paints into thin strips which approximate yarn, Teng uses a single hook to crochet the paint into rectangular and square compositions. As described in a 2016 interview in Canadian Art magazine, “The paintings have the ability to speak to sculpture and painting and feminism—craft, women’s work. . . And there’s still so much within colour, form and gesture that I have yet to explore.” Her works elicit a broad range of references, from the colourful, commonplace Afghan throw to the geometric abstraction of high modernism, all while implicating the artistic labour of women that has typically earned the distinction of “craft” rather than “art”.

Angela Teng: Colourwork is a special exhibition presented by Equinox Gallery, which is located at 3642 Commercial Street in Vancouver. Established in 1972, Equinox Gallery has garnered a reputation as one of Canada’s foremost galleries, committed to the representation and exhibition of outstanding artists locally, nationally and internationally.
